

FOREVER MORE

(Neil Murray)

We lose the loved ones we hold dear. One accumulates years and loss accordingly. They still surprise us with their exit. As if we thought it would never happen.

I woke up today
In the middle of an empty plain
A butterfly landed clung to me unafraid
Made me think of you
And things I never said
You offered me your love
I must have had rocks in my head

Try to make ground
On regrets I hold for you could I have done something different Before I ever knew
Walking down memories
In places we used to meet
I carry this burden on a worn out beat

I can see your eyes
Shine like a jewelled sea
If you were still alive
Standing here with me
I'd take you by the hand
upon that emerald shore
We'd hide out in the dunes
Stay for evermore.

People think I've made it
Only you know I'm a fraud
Things that really mattered
I blew against the wall
Now I'm at your graveside with a handful of sand and the mourners line up to hold my hand

I can see your eyes
Shine like a jewelled sea
If you were still alive
Standing here with me
upon that emerald shore
We'd hide out in the dunes
stay for evermore.
Stay for evermore
Stay for evermore

I dunno from where loves ever gonna come Mightn't come at all
My quota could be done
I'd do it all again
In a heartbeat I wouldn't flinch
Just to see beauty one time
Cause I haven't seen it since

I can see your eyes
Shine like a morning star
If you were still alive
We'd be riding in my car
along that emerald shore
Stay for evermore.
