IS THAT A SIGN?

(Neil Murray)

There was a boy, a boy who died
Then he came back to life
He said he'd been to heaven
He said Santa Claus wasn't there
But there were lots, lots of angels

Is that a sign blowing in the wind tonight?
Breathing hope into souls of loved ones at home
Dreamin' and sleepin' tight
Prayers of light, grand design
You can take all my mornings from me if I'm not right

A lonely man, way past his prime
He'd failed at love but was running out of time
And then a woman came and said unto him
"I don't care if you're eighty I'm marrying you, Jim"

Is that a sign blowing in the wind tonight?
Breathing hope into souls of loved ones at home
Dreamin' and sleepin' tight
Prayers of light, grand design
You can take all my mornings from me if I'm not right

I'll pray today, I'll pray today
I'll pray today, I'll pray today

Is that a sign, blowing in the wind tonight?
Breathing hope into souls of loved ones at home
Dreamin' and sleepin' tight
Prayers of light, grand design
You can take all my mornings from me if I'm not right
Ah, take all my mornings, take all my mornings
Take all my mornings, you can take all my mornings
I'll pray
