

LITTLE ONE

(Neil Murray)

Little one, so pleased that you've arrived
Little one, even when you cry
Little one, where'd you get that smile?
Wouldn't know what day it was if not for you
Wouldn't know the morning from afternoon

When I gaze into your eyes I see where love resides
And you're as happy as can be because you're seeing it in me
And I'm so glad you chose me to be your dad
Little one, you chose me
Well, pleased to meet you too

Little one, with your tiny hand in mine
Little one, is this your plan or is it mine?
Little one, what's that twinkle in your eye?
I wouldn't know the colour of a pre-dawn sky
Without you I wouldn't know why
When I gaze into your eyes, I see where love resides
And you're as happy as can be, 'cause you're seeing it in me
And I'm so glad you chose me to be your dad
Little one, you chose me
Little one, little one
Where'd you get that shine?
