

THIS BLISS

(Neil Murray)

You're gonna meet a lady sometime soon
You won't have to do too much
You'll have slow conversation
Or you might not speak at all
When she comes, she'll come so softly
You might not notice her at first
But when she turns out the light
And takes you by your hand
You know everything that follows, follows to a plan
One more time, in your life
This bliss

And you're so, you're so grateful she came to the rescue
And she'll hold you so dearly you hardly breathe at all
Lest you blow her away, but come the break of day
You'll be so amazed to find she's sleepin' at your side
One more time in your life
This bliss
One more time in your life
This bliss

You're so glad that you're still alive
To feel like this, one last time
Yes one more time in your life
This bliss
One more time, in your life
This bliss
