

TJAPWURRUNG COUNTRY

(Neil Murray)

I've been around a lot of places
But now I'm back where I started from Back to a lake in Tjapwurrung Country
Where the sunlight shines on fresh water
And green rollin' plains meet the mountains
Make you catch your breath any time of year
But why does this place seem so empty
Home of my spirit, but pain in my heart
Pain in my heart
I wanna tell ya one thing

I sing for my home in Tjapwurrung Country
(Sing for my home)
I sing for the people to come back there
(People gonna come back there)
I sing to be healed in Tjapwurrung Country
(Sing to be healed)
I'll keep on singin' til my people come

I see a lot of farms and houses
And I see a lot of damage on that land
And there's not many know, what I sing for
They must be livin' some place else
Some place else
Somewhere different to me

I sing for my home in Tjapwurrung Country
(Sing for my home)
I sing for the people to come back there
(People gonna come back there)
I sing to be healed in Tjapwurrung Country
(Sing to be healed)
I'll keep on singin' til the people come

The light still shines on that water
Movin' through green country out there
And there in the west, those same old mountains
They keep on pullin' me back here
Pullin' me back here
So where I always wana be

I sing for my home in Tjapwurrung Country
(Sing for my home)
I sing for the people to come back there
(People gonna come back there)
I sing to be healed in Tjapwurrung Country
(Sing to be healed)

I'll keep on singin' til the people come
(Sing for my home)
Keep on singin' til my people come
(Sing to be healed)
In Tjapwurrung County,
I sing to be healed, I sing to be made whole again
(Til the people come)
In Tjapwurrung Country
Keep on singin' til my people come
(Sing for my home)
I sing for my home
Keep on singin' til my people come
In Tjapwurrung Country
