

TOO MANY LOVE SONGS

(lyrics by Eric Beach / music by Neil Murray)

Now that there's too many love songs
All I can think of is you
Too bad so many been done wrong
Believe that the sky will turn blue

Can a minute last an hour?
Can a flower sting a bee?
Has a lover any power?
Can a cannon shell a pea?

Now that my heart has been broken
all I can hear is the clocks sent you the hands as a token believe if I wait that you'll knock

Can a minute last an hour?
Can a flower sting a bee?
Has a lover any power?
Can a cannon shell a pea?

I know there's too many sad songs
there's a blue in every hue
Too bad so many been done wrong
assistant librarian dues

Can a minute last an hour?
Can a flower sting a bee?
Has a lover any power?
Can a cannon shell a pea?
What's a dawn without a lover?
What's a you with a me?
What's a lawn without a mower?
What's a shoodo on a shoe tree?
Shoo be do do, shee be de be.