

SINCE YOU GORN

(Neil Murray / Matt Walker)

Look out your window I swear the sky's about to fall
Look out your window I swear the sky's about to fall You wouldn't believe it but everyday's been darkness since you gorn

I'm travellin hard, ten thousand miles of bitter tears
I'm travelin hard, ten thousand miles of bitter tears
No matter how far I go, in my mind you're still here

Once I held a candle for ya but it burned itself out
Once I held a candle for ya but it burned itself out even if you come back I wouldn't want you now

If I see your pretty face it'll only bring me down
If I see your pretty face it'll only bring me down
I'm gonna get myself,
another woman now
